Millie is a detail-oriented financial professional with a strong accounting background and extensive experience in the legal industry. At WMH, she manages day-to-day accounting and billing operations; establishes proper accounting methods, policies, and principles; analyzes and produces financial reports for partners and management; negotiates with vendors; and minimizes loss by diligently monitoring cash flow and creating aging reports.

Prior to joining the firm, Millie was a senior bookkeeper for Amy's Bread and an office manager for a New York-based, bilingual law firm.
